

We're OBSESSED with women in country music!

Welcome to Girl Crush Country!

I'm so glad you're here! Obviously, you signed up because you want to support women in country music (thank you!), but aside from also watching the interviews, following on the socials, and wearing the merch, there's one more big thing you can do to show that support: tell your friends about this newsletter! The more people we can reach, the bigger the platform we have for women in country to really make an impact.

Country Music Herstory: It was this month in 1995 that Shania Twain saw her first #1 (and first time even in the top 10) on the Billboard Hot Country Singles & Tracks chart with "Any Man Of Mine." The song spent 20 weeks on the chart, two of those at the top, and it was the first #1 by a non-American on that chart since Anne Murray was there in 1986. What better way to ring in that anniversary than with a new album -- Shania's on the drops list below.

girl talks

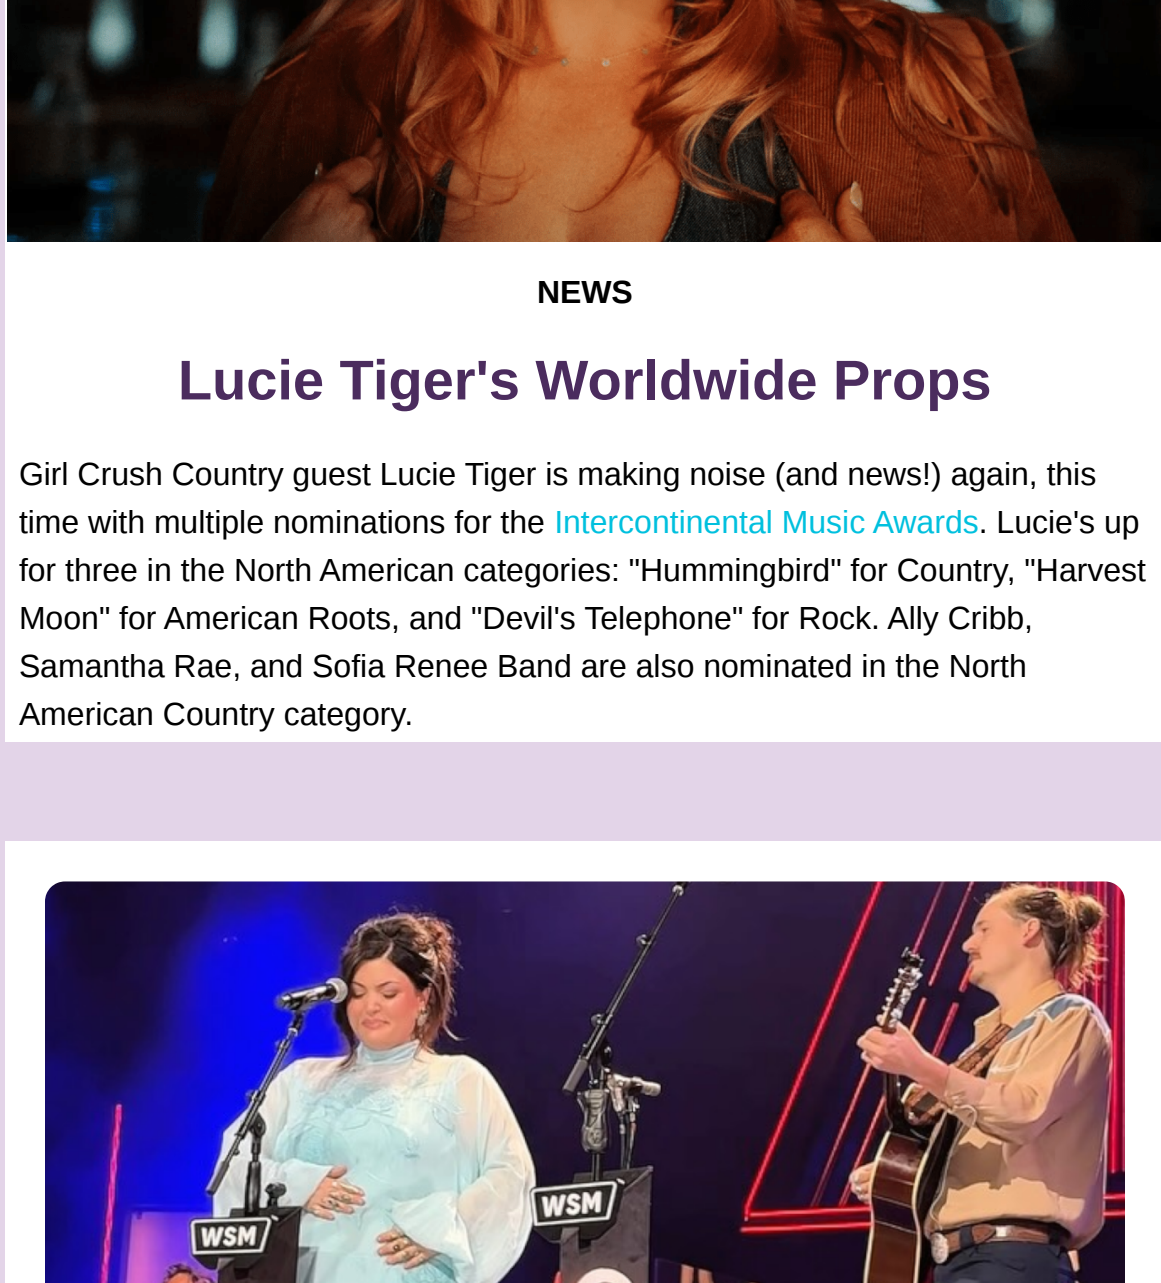

FEATURED GIRL CRUSH

Becca Bowen

Becca Bowen (a.k.a. Country Barbie) doesn't just sing country -- she is country -- and she won a whole reality show to prove it (hint: it wasn't even a singing competition). She joins the show to talk about lifting up other women, staying true to yourself, and all the side quests she's been part of on the way. Watch the full interview here.

News

Megan Moroney's So Cosmo

Megan Moroney was featured in Cosmopolitan's Pop Culture/Celebs section last week. She told them about her first headlining tour, naming names in her songs, and being super personal in her music. "When I get scared of putting out a song because it's too personal, I think about how it might help somebody, because every time I've done it and I've taken the risk, people have come up to me and they're like, 'This song made me dump this guy' and 'This song is making me never want to go back to him,'" she said. "It's just one of those things where you have to be like, 'Fuck it. What's the worst that could happen?'" Indeed. Read the whole interview here.

Lucie Tiger's Worldwide Props

Girl Crush Country guest Lucie Tiger is making noise (and news!) again, this time with multiple nominations for the Intercontinental Music Awards. Lucie's up for three in the North American categories: "Hummingbird" for Country, "Harvest Moon" for American Roots, and "Devil's Telephone" for Rock. Ally Cribb, Samantha Rae, and Sofia Renee Band are also nominated in the North American Country category.

News

The Band Loula's Mom-To-Be

Big love to the Band Loula's Logan Simmons, who revealed on the Grand Ole Opry stage last week that she's having a baby boy in December. She'd kept the news a secret until their Opry performance. "This place is really special. Feels like family. I held it in for a long time, and now I can't hide from it," she said tearfully while touching her growing belly. Congrats to Logan and her family!
