We're OBSESSED with women in country music!

Welcome to Girl Crush Country!

CLICK HERE TO WATCH THIS WEEK'S INTERVIEW

I'm so glad you're here! It's Thanksgiving week (even though I thought it was last week and already bought and ate a pumpkin pie, but I'm not sorry) and the perfect opportunity to share some gratitude. When I started Girl Crush Country in January, I had no idea how it would end up developing. Thank you for being part of this mission to elevate the voices of women in country music! You can help us continue to grow by sharing this newsletter with your country-loving friends and following us on all the social media. And, let's get to the women making ALL THE NOISE this week, because there's some big stuff to celebrate. Let's go girls!

FEATURED GIRL CRUSH

Heather Russell

Heather Russell's only in her 20s but she's experienced more life in her music career than some much more familiar artists. Her energy, her positive outlook, and her intentional honesty make it clear she's just getting started. Heather joins Girl Crush Country to share her story and her new music (including a musical middle finger we love!). Watch the interview here.

NEWS

We Just Wanna Be Her So Bad

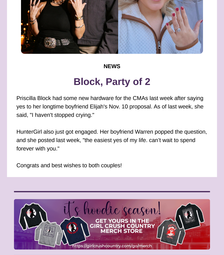

Ella Langley made CMA Awards history last week, with the most wins of any artist in a single night. If you're counting, she won Single, Song, and Music Video of the Year for "Choosin' Texas," Album of the Year for Dandelion, Female Vocalist, and the coveted top award: Entertainer of the Year. Miranda Lambert took home three trophies for her role as producer and songwriter on "Choosin' Texas," for Single, Song, and Album.

They're Cookin' With Crisco

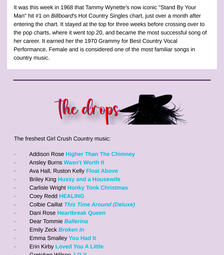

Miranda Lambert and Ella Langley also lead the country nominees for the 2027 Grammy Awards. They have seven each, including the all-genre Record and Song of the Year for "Choosin' Texas" and Album of the Year for Dandelion. In addition to all her nods for Ella's music, Miranda's also up for Best Country Duo/Group Performance with Kacey Musgraves for "Horses and Divorces, and Best Country Song as one of the writers on Stephen Wilson Jr.'s "Hardwired." Megan Moroney and Kacey Musgraves are also up for Best Country Song, and the Best Contemporary Country Album category is a well-deserved all-girl lineup: Ella, Megan, Kacey, Kelsea Ballerini, and Carter Faith. The winners will be announced live February 7 from Los Angeles. See all the nominations here.

NEWS

She's On Cloud 9

Megan Moroney was a big winner at last week's SESAC Nashville Music Awards. She was named Songwriter of the Year, and also won Song of the Year with cowriter Rob Hatch for "6 Months Later."

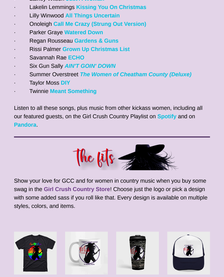

NEWS

Block, Party of 2

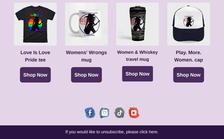

Priscilla Block had some new hardware for the CMAs last week after saying yes to her longtime boyfriend Elijah's Nov. 10 proposal. As of last week, she said, "I haven't stopped crying."

HunterGirl also just got engaged. Her boyfriend Warren popped the question, and she posted last week, "the easiest yes of my life. can't wait to spend forever with you."

Congrats and best wishes to both couples!

herstory

It was this week in 1968 that Tammy Wynette's now iconic "Stand By Your Man" hit #1 on Billboard's Hot Country Singles chart, just over a month after entering the chart. It stayed at the top for three weeks before crossing over to the pop charts, where it went top 20, and became the most successful song of her career. It earned her the 1970 Grammy for Best Country Vocal Performance. Female and is considered one of the most familiar songs in country music.
